

Local Brevities

The Independent Order of Foresters held a meeting yesterday evening.

Judge Wm. Barnes of Tucson has gone to the Cananans, Sonora, to inspect those fabulously rich copper deposits.

George Mitchell of the Cobre Grande Copper company was noted on the streets of Benson yesterday by the Press, returning from Phoenix.

Mr. Weidner, the genial big mining man from California, is prolonging his visit with us because of his belief that our climate alleviates his rheumatism.

Articles of incorporation of the East Bisbee Gold Mining company, with a capital stock of $2,500,000, were filed in the office of the county recorder at Phoenix last Friday.

Although he is the largest man in Arizona, Dell Lewis appears several inches taller this morning. Mrs. Lewis presented him with a bouncing boy last night, hence this imaginary additional stature. Congratulations.

There is little in police circles today. The only court transacting business was Justice Johnson, who had before him Henry Schluter, charged with a deadly assault upon B. Behlends. The hearing was continued until tomorrow.

E. J. Murphy, lately of Jerome and Globe, and well and favorably known all over Arizona as one of the most popular saloon men in the territory, arrived in Bisbee yesterday afternoon and has accepted a position at the Free Coinage, where he will concoct beverages to slake the thirst and tickle the palate of the most fastidious—drinks that will exhilarate but not intoxicate.

Frank Bowman, the well known mining man, came in today from the Bowman-Agass mines in the gold camp twelve miles from Tombstone. He states that the 5-ton mill has been constantly running with satisfactory results and there are 10 men at work in the mine extracting ore and developing the property. Other claims in the neighborhood are being developed and considerable activity in that district is the result.—Tombstone Prospector.

Charles A. Overlock leaves this afternoon for La Morita, Sonora, to be absent several days, whither he goes to receive a large bunch of cattle purchased for the purpose of filling his beef contract, with the construction crew of the Nacosari and Gulf railroad, which it is thought will commence operation within a few weeks. The cattle will be held in Packard's pasture on the south side of the line until such time as they are needed for the butcher's block.

THE NACOSARI ROAD.

The Mexican Government Dictates as to How Roads are Built.

The following in regard to the Nacosari railroad, the facts in regard to which are of interest to Bisbee people, is taken from the Lordsburg Liberal:

Colonel M. W. Wambaugh, chief engineer of the Morenci Southern and of the Nacosari road, is down in Mexico and while gone will make a trip over the line of the road to Nacosari. In Mexico the government has a good deal to say about the way railroads are to be built. One of the rules is that all bridges must be built of stone and steel, wood not being allowed in the construction of a bridge, but there is a provision in the law that on new roads temporary bridges of wood may be put in, provided the railroad company promises to put in steel bridges in a certain specified time. The railroad company generally tries to make that time about as far off as the average life of a wooden bridge. The Nacosari company has not yet secured the concession to put in the wooden bridges, and there seems to be some hesitancy about allowing the company to put in the wooden bridges for the temporary purposes. While on this trip, Colonel Wambaugh will probably decide whether it is advisable to endeavor to get a concession to put in wooden bridges at once. It may be a little more expensive to build a railroad in Mexico than in this country and that is probably the reason that no more are built in that country, but when they are built they are much better roads than some of the cheap ones that are built in this country.

Timely Words.

Experience has shown that under our present laws it is almost impossible to wipe small gangs of criminals out of existence. When a crime has been committed a sheriff will go after the criminals. If he catches them it is only after a long and expensive trip. For making this trip he is allowed mileage, and it is seldom that the mileage pays the expenses of the trip. If he does not get them he gets nothing. Now, sheriffs are but human, and while many of them put up a good bluff as to the work they have done to catch outlaws, yet but few of them feel able to hunt outlaws for weeks at a time and over hundreds of square miles of territory. The most economical thing for both Arizona and New Mexico to do is to put small forces of rangers in the field, similar to the Texas rangers. Their business will be to run down these small bands of desperados, and as they get their men, with no additional expense, the chances are they will soon clean the country up. The rangers from the two territories could work well together, and it is probable could make an alliance with the Mexican troops south of the border. With all three working together the tough citizen would find this a hard country to live in.—Lordsburg Liberal.

MINING NOTES.

J. Westerliche brought into Benson from the Ricon mountains the carcass of a big lion he killed out there on Saturday. It measured nine feet and three-quarters from tip to tip.

Henry R. Parton, a mining man from Cripple Creek district, Colorado, was in El Paso, says the Times, on his way to Cochise county, Arizona, where he has gone to inspect some claims. Mr. Parton reports that a wealthy syndicate is securing control of all the valuable mining properties in Colorado, and that the poor man's chances there are now very limited.

Stratton's Independence mine in Cripple Creek, Colorado, produced in January 3,300 tons of ore with a value of $275,000. In one day 200 tons of ore of the value of $250 per ton were taken from the mine. W. S. Stratton, the locator and former owner of the mine, received a check for $5,500,000 on the 10th of April, being the final payment on the stock sold to the English company last March.

The Mining and Scientific Press rightly says: In mining matters the force of understatement is as strong as exaggeration is weak. To say the ledge is five feet wide and the ore average is $7.50 when, as a matter of fact, it is six feet wide and averages $9, appeals more favorably to the prospective bonder or buyer than to assert that the ledge is twelve feet wide and that the ore clear across averages $18 and fail to prove it.

Mr. H. M. Chapman, secretary of the Phoenix Library association, announces that the library has just been made the recipient of 117 books, the gift of Hon. John M. Hamilton of that city. The list comprises volumes of almost every character. Among them are twenty-three volumes of Harper's magazines, bound substantially and dating back over a period of twenty-seven years.

Dr. George Martin, who some time ago squatted upon a choice lot upon what is known as the military plaza at Tucson, has been re-inforced by six other squatters, all of whom have built box houses and are "occupying" the premises thus claimed by them. They will contest the title to the land, which the city claims is vested in the corporation. In order to stop further squatting the city council has passed an ordinance making it a misdemeanor for any person to enter upon the plaza and occupy a lot there.

The Improved Order of Red Men of the Reservation of Arizona.

The hunting grounds of Bisbee will be alive with Cochise Tribe No. 7 on the Sleep of 12 Sun of Flower Moon G. S. D., 409. They will scout from the opera house at 2 o'clock p. m.

Great preparations are being made by the Red Men to make this occasion one long to be remembered. The parade will be the grandest fraternal display ever witnessed in Arizona. The members of the order will parade in costume becoming the tribe, and as the order is noted for not doing anything by halves, those who attend the entertainment and witness the parade will have nothing to regret.

An Editor's Life Saved by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

During the early part of October, 1896, I contracted a bad cold which settled on my lungs and was neglected until I feared that consumption had appeared in an incipient state. I was constantly coughing and striving to do something which I could not. I became alarmed and after giving the local doctor a trial bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the result was immediate improvement. I was able to rest three bottles my lungs were restored to healthy state.—R. S. Edwards, Publisher of the Review, Wyant, Ill. For sale by all druggists.

A BUSY FIELD.

The Systematic Operation of a Mammoth Plant.

The yard in and around the Copper Queen smelter presents a scene of activity seldom witnessed in the southwest. Certainly there is nothing that will compare with it in Arizona. Eastern visitors are amazed at the immensity of the plant, and observe with interest the manner in which business is conducted in the great copper camp. Men move to and fro with the regularity of clock work, there never being a balk or hitch in one department that will interfere with those in another. Everything is systematized to perfection, and each department vies with the other to the end that the best results may be had. This is noticeable in and around the mine, smelter, and in every department of the railroad service. We doubt if there is another concern in the United States that is so systematically conducted as is the Copper Queen Consolidated Mining company of Bisbee.

W. W. Mawlaw, Merton, Wis: "I can't say One Minute Cough Cure is a most wonderful medicine, quick and safe." It is the only harmless remedy that gives immediate results. It cures coughs, colds, croup, bronchitis, grippe, whooping cough, pneumonia and all throat and lung diseases. Its early use prevents consumption. Children always like it and mothers endorse it. Greatest of All THE FASHION,

"Every one in San Antonio, Texas, says that Acker's English Remedy is the greatest thing ever put up for coughs, colds, asthma, bronchitis, croup and consumption. I have been using it over four years for all forms of throat and lung troubles, and have yet to come across a case where it failed. We have four little ones in our family, and neither my wife nor I have ever lost a night's sleep because of throat troubles among the children. I guess that is more than any other family can say. Acker's English Remedy is just as effective for grown-up people as for the young. It seems to go straight to the place where the trouble lies inside throat and bronchial tubes and lungs. It soothes and heals the irritated tissues, loosens up the phlegm and mucus in the breathing passages, quiets the nerves, invigorates the constitution and stops the coughing. My advice to parents is to always keep a bottle in the house. It will be a constant safeguard against croup." (Signed)
